

SMARTREDACTION™

by UTILITY, Inc.

As police departments equip officers with body cameras to record exchanges with the public, there has been a large increase in Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests for video evidence gathered by these cameras. The process of preparing videos for public dissemination, while maintaining privacy rights of those involved, has up until now been time consuming and expensive.

SmartRedaction™ is the newest addition to the Enterprise Video Evidence Software – AVaiLWeb. It can blur-out faces and personally identifiable markings such as body tattoos to protect the privacy of victims, innocent bystanders, minors and undercover police officers - and works with the Utility BodyWorn and In-Car Video Systems. This technology will save your Department in manual video redaction labor costs while supporting it's efforts to share video with third parties. While most redaction techniques use arbitrary frame boxes that must be manually repositioned while a target moves around the image, Utility's Smart Redaction™ identifies and tracks selected targets, so the work is done for you, and the entire image is not unnecessarily blurred.

DEPARTMENTS CAN NOW RELIABLY AND EFFICIENTLY RELEASE VIDEO FOR FOIA REQUESTS IN A FRACTION OF THE TIME IT WOULD TAKE TO MANUALLY REDACT VIDEO.

- Ⓞ Automatically select and redact all faces and body parts in a video.
- Ⓞ Selectively redact one or more objects in a video, leaving everything else clear.
- Ⓞ Selectively non-redact one or more objects, while everything else is redacted.
- Ⓞ Selectively redact audio during a specific timeframe in the video to help protect victims, minors and/or bystanders.
- Ⓞ Smart Redaction works with a copy of the video, leaving the original video untouched, protecting the Legal Evidence Chain of Custody.
- Ⓞ A Police Department can quickly redact video and audio at low cost to protect public confidence.
